ALASKAN MAIL STEAMER LOST IN ICE FLOES

Wears Hole Through Hull Fighting Way Through Floating Blocks

CREW FORCED TO TAKE TO SMALL OPEN BOAT

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 9 (AP).—Bucking ice floes for hours, the small steamer Discoverer wore a hole in her hull last night and foundered off Nulichuk, with Captain Heinle Berger and his crew taking to a small open boat.

The Discoverer went down about two miles off shore, Engineer Wilkinson reported when he was brought here by airplane today for hospital treatment. Captain Berger and his crew were lost at least hours in their small boat, making their way to shore through the ice.

With the water constantly rising in the Discoverer, they were compelled to abandon ship about midnight.

All suffered considerably from cold and exposure, Wilkinson said, in the freezing weather.

The Discoverer, which carried mail and passengers between Anchorage and Lower Cook Inlet, was making the last trip of the season. At Seward she was to be laid up for the winter.

ABANDON PLANS FOR PRESSURE

Sino-Japanese Dispute Referred Without Comment to League Committee

GENEVA, Dec. 9 (AP).—All suggestions of exerting concerted pressure on Japan appeared to have been abandoned when the assembly of the League of Nations today when the question of settling the Sino-Japanese dispute was referred without comment to the Assembly's committee of nineteen.

TO DRAFT INVITATION
The committee of nineteen is expected to meet Monday or Tuesday and to proceed immediately to draft an invitation asking the United States and Russia to participate in the work of conciliation. This draft will be referred to the Assembly for ratification.

Without comment the Assembly passed on to the committee the report of the Lytton Commission of investigation, the record of the discussion of the Manchurian problem in the Assembly, and all pertinent documents. This averted a clash over a resolution, presented by four small powers, which would have condemned Japan's policy.

CONFERENCE ON COPPER FAILURE

Apparently Collapses When Principal Participants Take Leave—No Promise of Agreement

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP).—The International Copper Conference apparently collapsed today when the departure for Europe of three more of the principal participants.

With the sailing of P. Pisani and Camille Guit, representing the Belgian-owned Katanga property, and of S. S. Taylor, managing director of Rhokana, following previous defections by other leading copper interests, the break-up of the party seemed assured in the opinion of local copper men.

At no time since negotiations were opened did the conference promise an agreement, because of the refusal of Roan Antelope, British-owned property in Rhodesia, South Africa, to modify its demands for a production quota 80 per cent larger than in 1932.

HAVE SECOND MURDER MYSTERY TO SOLVE

YAKIMA, Wash., Dec. 9 (AP).—Yakima sheriff's officers started their second murder investigation of this week tonight after the finding of the body of a man on a little traveled road near here. A grocery slip, found in one of the man's pockets, carried the name "Chick" Ameline.

The man had been shot between the eyes, and evidently died instantly, officers said.

MILL FIRE AT EVERETT

EVERETT, Wash., Dec. 9 (AP).—A three-alarm fire destroyed part of the lumber mill and a veneer drying room of the Robinson Manufacturing Co. here today, with damage estimated by officials at $80,000. The firemen were handicapped by the cold weather.

MADE FROM THE DECK OF THE RESCUING SHIP, THESE PICTURES SHOW THE actual rescue of four sailors from the foundering schooner Cle-mencia by the liner De Grasse, 250 miles at sea from New York. One member of the crew of the schooner had been washed overboard and drowned before succor arrived.

Britain Prepares To Meet Payment Due on U.S. Debt

Premier MacDonald Expected to Return From Geneva to Participate in Cabinet Discussion—France Receives Refusal Note—Poland Asks for Suspension

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP).—The House of Commons probably will have an opportunity next Tuesday to discuss the impending war debt payment to the United States, but the discussion there will not alter the Government's intention to make the $95,550,000 payment on Thursday. From an official source it was learned today that Washington and London already were negotiating over the method of making the payment.

LORD MONTAGU CLEARS STATUS

Proves His Legal Entry Into United States From Canada

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP).—Immigration inspectors announced tonight that Lord Edward Mountagu of Manchester, British peer, and a member of the Captain Wanderswell crew, had cleared up his status with the United States Government.

Montagu had been taken from the Wanderswell yacht, Carme, for investigation as to his entry into the United States. It was on the Carme that Captain Wanderswell was slain mysteriously Monday night.

HAS LEGAL PERMIT
Montagu produced his British passport showing he had entered the United States legally last December, and that his permit entitled him to remain here until December 28, this year.

Immigration inspectors said he would be granted another six months visitor's permit if he requested it. Positive identification of Lord Montagu as the Duke of Manchester's son was made at the office of the British consul here.

Rebels Loot Two Towns And Escape

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Dec. 9 (AP).—Two towns in the northern zone were looted today by rebel soldiers who escaped the eye of Nationalist troops.

Marale and Concordia were swept clean by the rebels, but the town of Marale repelled invasion, thanks to marksmanship displayed by inhabitants who banded together and fought the invaders. It was reported here that the Picoles wharves on the southern end of Lake Yocou had been destroyed by marauders.

Cyclone Capsizes Queensland Train

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 9 (AP).—Fifteen passengers were slightly injured today when a cyclone overturned a train in the Rockhampton district of Queensland. A baby, blown along a road for some distance, also was hurt. Many dwellings were damaged.

BOLIVIA AND PARAGUAY IN LONG BATTLE

Engagement at Seven Kilometres Enters Second Month

BOLIVIAN REPULSE TERRIFIC ATTACKS

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 9 (AP).—The battle at the point known as Seven Kilometres, scene of the fiercest engagements in the struggle for Paraguay and Bolivia for the Gran Chaco, today entered its second month with no diminution in fighting.

Paraguayan forces continued to hurl column after column of foot troops into the fray at the northern outskirts at Fort Saavedra, but thus far without substantial gains.

At present the battlefield lies at a point where a dense forest breaks into the level pampas, and is seven kilometres north of Saavedra on the Althaus Road.

IN THREE FORTS
Behind their sturdy fortified outposts, the Bolivians have entrenched themselves in a strongly situated area, with the three forts, Saavedra, Aguas and Mar Uta within twenty miles.

Troops are housed in three fortresses, and general headquarters at Munoz is sixty miles to the rear, connected with the front by a good road. An airport, radio facilities, and an army hospital are located to the strength of the Bolivians' position.

CLAIM EDGE IN BATTLE
With planes and artillery easily usable, Bolivian leaders declare they are now inflicting the heaviest percentages of casualties so far in the South American warfare.

Losses in the Paraguayan forces during the kilometre Seven of ensive were enormous, and reports received here declared Paraguay suffered a loss of 600 men in each of the last three days.

It was estimated that 20,000 men were engaged in the kilometre Seven battle.

SAYS EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT

Walter Guy, Suspected of Murder Has Alibi—Under Surveillance

LONG BEACH, Cal., Dec. 9 (AP).—An attempt to obtain a murder complaint against Walter J. Guy failed today when a state prosecutor told detectives they did not possess sufficient evidence to bring the twenty-four-year-old soldier of fortune to trial on a charge of killing Captain James Wanderswell, middle-aged adventurer.

Police contended descriptions furnished by witnesses of a stranger who killed the captain, and Guy's movements before the killing and vanished in the night, corresponded to that of Guy, who said he was thirty miles away at the time.

But the lack of immediate action against the suspect did not make difficult the task of keeping him under surveillance. Federal agents announced he would be held under $5,000 bond pending a hearing to deport him as an alien who had entered the United States illegally.

DEFINITE REFUSAL
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP).—The United States' answer to France's second attempt at postponement of the December 15 war debt payment was a quite definite "No," but its wording was interpreted as containing "possibilities of an agreement."

Publication of the note, handed today to Ambassador Macdonald, revealed the Administration had emphasized a willingness to cooperate with France in a survey of the entire economic situation.

The reply was given out just after the State Department received Poland's second note, asking that its debt payments, too, be postponed.

Wheat Shipment at Liverpool Waits as Officials Cogitate

Customs Claim Documentary Evidence of Canadian Origin Lacking for Grain Routed From Fort William Through the United States

LONDON, Dec. 9 (CP).—Customs commissioners here pondered today whether or not they should admit duty free a shipment of wheat from Fort William, Ont., which arrived at Liverpool several days ago on the steamer Lacona out of New York.

The wheat was said to have been consigned direct from Fort William to the United Kingdom, and to have passed through the United States in bond, in accordance with terms of a British customs order entitling it to free entry at a British port.

DOCUMENTS WANTED
Customs authorities at Liverpool, however, said the consignors had neglected to send with the wheat documents necessary to prove it was Canadian.

Decision of the Liverpool customs office that it could not admit the wheat on its own responsibility appeared to indicate the purpose of the shipment had been lost, temporarily at least. Its purpose was to test the workings of the British

EXPLOSION IN MINE DEADLY

Rescue Workers Search for Trapped Men—Little Hope of Survival

HARLAN, Ky., Dec. 9 (AP).—Wives and children of the men trapped in the Zero Mine at the Harlan Fuel Company at Yancy huddled around the mine entrance tonight as rescue workers pursued their search after four bodies had been recovered.

OVER TWENTY TRAPPED
George S. Ward, secretary of the Harlan Coal Operators' Association, said he was certain twenty-three men had been trapped by a dust explosion at noon today, and that twenty-eight might have been caught by the blast. Ward said there was little hope any would be rescued alive.

The four bodies brought from the mine early tonight were identified as those of Henry Hibbard, Tom Garrett, and Esau Messingill, son of J. M. Messingill, seventy-eight, who said three more of his sons were in the mine.

DUST AND GAS
Ward said the blast probably was a dust explosion, followed by spread of deadly carbon monoxide gas, known to miners as the dread "black damp."

First intimation that anything was wrong came about noon when the miners rushed out, saying they felt "wind." One miner who rushed out reported it was an explosion.

Deputy sheriffs held back several hundred relatives and friends as the rescue crews went about their work.

B.C. TELEPHONES ARE MUCH IN USE

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP).—British Columbians go in for telephones in big way and lead the provinces in the use of that instrument, with 183 phones for every 100 of population in 1931, says a Bureau of Statistics report. Ontario came next with 181, Manitoba and Quebec 91, Saskatchewan 90, New Brunswick 83 and Prince Edward Island 66.

RELEASED WRONG MAN
PADUA, Italy, Dec. 9 (CP).—Giuseppe Favaro served fifteen months of a jail sentence when he was released. In two days he was rearrested. "Sorry," said the jailer who returned him to his cell, "it was another man we were supposed to release. Just a little mistake. Excuse it, please."

MEAT PACKERS IN AUSTRALIA BUSY

Activity Attributed to Agreement Reached at Ottawa Conference—Fact Worth Millions

MELBOURNE, Australia, Dec. 9 (AP).—Leaders of the meat industry in Australia said today their firms were busier than at any time in the past fourteen years, and attributed increased activity to operation of the Australian-United Kingdom trade pact signed last summer at the Ottawa Economic Conference.

They said improvement of prices for their British market was worth $200,000,000 greater now than before the trade agreement was signed.

The capital value of all Australian cattle and sheep, they estimated, was $200,000,000 greater now than before the trade agreement was signed.

CONDITION OF FILM ACTRESS IS GRAVE
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 (AP).—Grave concern for the condition of Zasu Pitts, film comedienne, who underwent a major operation Wednesday, was expressed today by her physician, who said she was being given opiates.

The actress was stricken Wednesday night and was taken to a hospital here, where an emergency operation for acute intestinal obstruction and appendicitis was performed.

Canadian Trade Volume Has Made Rapid Gains Under Empire Treaties

Hon. H. H. Stevens Reveals Encouraging Figures—Avows Faith in Benefits to Come From Ottawa Conference—Germany Offers Lumber Market—Tariff Board Announcement Soon

VANCOUVER, Dec. 9 (CP).—Speaking at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, tonight brought out a forceful picture of the benefits Canada has derived from trade agreements reached at the Ottawa Imperial Conference. Taking the seven months' period of the present year and comparing it to the same period of last year, Mr. Stevens ticked off item after item, each a product of Canadian agriculture or industry, which have doubled and in some cases trebled in export value during the corresponding period this year.

In the cured meat market, Mr. Stevens instanced bacon and ham exports, which had jumped from $748,971 in 1931 to $2,165,240 this year. Speaking briefly on the vast market in this one item the minister said that last year Canada supplied only 1 per cent of the United Kingdom consumption, while for the seven months of the present year this had jumped to 3 per cent.

MADE CLOSE JOINTS FOR COMPONENTS

FOUR DIE AS HOME BURNS
Four Others Escape in Night Attire When Fire Levels Dwelling

CAMROSE, Alta., Dec. 9 (CP).—A tiny spark in a defective chimney tonight had burned the farm home of Charles Nesbitt, in the Perinot district, twenty miles south of here, into a heap of smouldering ash and left death and destruction in its wake. Four charred bodies are all that remain of Nesbitt's older children, and he and his wife, carrying their two youngest, barely escaped with their lives.

The dead, two boys and two girls, are: Arthur, twenty-one; Sadie, eighteen; Vida, ten; and Leonard, ten.

TRAPPED IN BEDS
Asleep in their beds, Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt awoke to find the building a mass of flames. They were unable to save the four who were trapped in their beds, and were forced to flee in night attire with Gerald, aged one and a half, and Stella, five.

With the temperature hovering well below zero, they spent the rest of the night in the hen house, watching their home burn to the ground. Help did not arrive until dawn, but by that time the homestead was totally destroyed. The survivors of the tragedy are looking for recovery from frost bites in the home of a relative in Perinot.

HAD NO CHANCE
The oldest children had no chance to escape. A few minutes after the blaze started the homestead was a raging inferno, and with the arrival of the four charred bodies were taken to Perinot.

The Nesbitts are pioneers and highly respected farmers in Perinot district, and were widely known throughout that part of the province. They have resided in Perinot district for about thirty years.

The farm was located about twenty-two miles south of Camrose.

Two School Girls Dead In Blizzard

CHATEAU, Mont., Dec. 9 (AP).—The bodies of two girls, who lost their way while going to school, were found Wednesday near the corner of a fence, which they presumably had used to guide them during their wanderings.

The victims, Irene and Sylvia Linjattie, nine and twelve years old, were the daughters of Victor Linjattie, a rancher near here. Two brothers of the girls started to school ahead of them and arrived safely. The boys were ten and fifteen years old.

Thinking their sisters had remained at home because of the snowstorm, accompanied by a temperature of 25 degrees below zero, the boys remained at school and returned in the evening.

Two Tragedies Due to Coal Oil
GRANDES BERGERONNES, Que., Dec. 9 (AP).—Word of the second oil lamp tragedy in less than a week came out of the sparsely settled regions of the north shore of the St. Lawrence below Murray Bay today.

Four-year-old Laureat Leonard is dead, and his father and younger sister severely burned as a result of a fire that raged their farm home. A coal oil barrel ignited and exploded.

The first tragedy occurred at St. Hillarion, near Murray Bay, when Madame Nerge Gagnon and her infant child lost their lives when an oil lamp exploded.

NEW ZEALAND TO SETTLE FARMERS

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Dec. 9 (CP).—A small farm bill introduced in the House of Representatives today by Hon. J. G. Coates, Minister of Public Works, makes provision for settling "approved" persons on small areas of Crown land.

Compulsory acquisition of land "not being adequately used" as a means of inducing the unemployed problem is one of the provisions of the bill. Other provisions relate to the compulsory system of hiring land modeled on the British Small Holding Act.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Flight of British Aviatrix Gave Her
Foremost Air RankAmy Mollison Easily First Among Women Flyers
—Latest Achievement Confounded Skeptics
Who Made Light of Previous Record

When the saga of the air is written, first place among all of the world's women flyers will be granted by right of supreme achievement to the young Englishwoman who flew recently alone from England to Capetown in the astounding time of 4 days 7 hours, and is now contemplating a return flight. Eight hours she lost at Benguela, on the coast of Portuguese West Africa, while the oil filters in her engine were cleaned of dirt; two hours were wasted through the carelessness of a mechanic at Gao, just south of the Sahara Desert, in neglecting to fill the fuel tanks to capacity; more time that might have been saved dribbled away because of a miscalculation of fuel consumption that obliged an unplanned landing at Barcelona.

But the skill and iron determination of the pilot won through to a magnificent triumph, one that ranks high among the world's greatest feats of airmanhood, and entitles her to a place with the half-dozen or so supreme aviators of all time. When Amy Johnson made her famous "lone" flight to Australia nearly three years ago, the achievement, though splendid in its courage and physical endurance, was by no means perfect in manner of execution. To the expert critic it betrayed a certain lack of skill and knowledge on the part of the pilot not unnatural in one whose total flying experience was limited to comparatively few hours in the air, and many expressed the opinion that luck helped a lot, and that the young woman's achievement was a "fluke" in the plan which she could never hope to repeat.

ROUTED SKEPTICS
Now Amy Mollison has routed the skeptics. No flaw can be detected in her latest exploit. Her navigation was sure and unerring, even across the trackless wastes of the immense Sahara, her pilotage skillful, her conduct of the adventure marked throughout with the foresight and common sense of the really great aviator. Undoubtedly she received much aid in planning the flight from her husband, J. A. Mollison, whose record over the same route she broke by more than ten hours, but it was her own skill that carried her safely across some of the most difficult flying country in the African continent, and her own determination and stamina that won through in those terrifying hours spent rushing across the desert, and in endless rain squalls and storms farther south.

Her airplane, the Desert Cloud, like the machine in which Mollison set up the earlier record last March, is a standard Puss Moth, a single monoplane, exactly similar in most respects to the hundreds of craft of the type flown by private owners in all parts of the world. The engine, a Gipsy Major 130 horsepower air-cooled unit, is slightly more powerful than the Gipsy II engine in her husband's plane, and that Mollison is a little faster than Mollison's.

Two of the three seats in the cabin were removed for the flight, and extra fuel tankage substituted. Altogether the little machine carried 110 gallons of fuel in four tanks. Two of them, each holding forty-eight gallons, are located behind the pilot, who flies the craft from the front seat, and two, each of seventeen and one-half gallons capacity, are in the wings. The special oil reservoir holds five gallons of lubricant.

HEAVILY LOADED
With full fuel load on board, the Desert Cloud weighs 2,400 pounds, or 350 pounds more than the maximum permissible laden weight of a standard Puss Moth. Mrs. Mollison's navigational equipment included a "turn and bank" indicator for use when flying blind in conditions of bad visibility, and a compass used by Mr. Mollison on his recent solo flight across the North Atlantic. From start to finish, in spite of the big overload and the bad weather encountered, plane and engine behaved perfectly.

Incidentally, Mrs. Mollison moved from England to Capetown at an average rate, including all stops, of no less than sixty-one miles an hour—faster than an express train. She flew on the average 1,468 miles in every twenty-four hours, at against the 1,320 miles' average achieved by her husband over the same route.

Seaplane Operators
Want Department to Reconsider QuestionState Canadian Craft Should Be Permitted to Use
Victoria Harbor—No Danger if Proper Precautions Taken

The question of the use of Victoria Harbor by airplane and flying boats is again being taken up with the Department of Civil Aviation, this time by commercial flying interests of Vancouver, who will point out that at the present time Victoria Harbor is closed to Canadian aircraft, while it is constantly being used by American aircraft who have occasion to visit Victoria Harbor on business pleasure. The Vancouver interests feel that the same courtesy might be extended to Canadian owners of commercial and private aircraft, provided proper safeguards are taken to overcome what slight dangers may exist.

In the opinion of these commercial operators, the Harbor is entirely suitable at all times of the year for the use of seaplanes and flying boats. They claim that steamship companies brought pressure to bear on the Government authorities, giving as reasons for their opposition that steamers using the harbor might be in the way of aircraft, and that aircraft might strike the side of a vessel.

SAFEGUARDS NEEDED
Considering the first reason, the Vancouver flying interests will point out that the same hazard exists with reference to small water craft which might be disabled on the surface. Aviation interests are agreed that proper safeguards should be taken to see that aircraft which might possibly find themselves drifting with a dead motor, or have difficulty in taxiing in an adverse wind, would not endanger surface traffic. This could readily be done by having a small power boat available to take in tow any aircraft which might be disabled.

There can be no doubt as to which method of transportation would suffer most in such a collision. No aircraft pilot, they will point out, is going to hit a steamer; for he knows very well that he will have expensive repairs to make to his aircraft, while the ship would be uninjured.

Aside from this, however, it is agreed that landings and take-offs in the Inner Harbor, where traffic may be congested, should not be permitted. They maintain, on the other hand, that there is plenty of space in the Outer Harbor beyond a line drawn from the Baco Paint Company property, across the narrow waterway, and that all planes should be required to land in and out of the Inner Harbor to and from landing stages near the Empress Hotel or the Parliament Buildings. Steamer movements would in no wise be endangered, they contend, in the Outer Harbor, where there is plenty of room for landings and take-offs.

CAUSES WONDER
Passengers on the intercity air service repeatedly express resentment at the extra journey to and from Esquimalt, the only other air terminal available when Victoria Harbor is closed to aircraft. Especially do they wonder at this necessity when they fly over the Harbor and see, as they have recently, three American aircraft moored to landing stages in front of the Empress Hotel and the Parliament Buildings.

Weather conditions in Esquimalt Harbor on Friday of last week, when a gale was blowing, prevented the intercity plane from taking off on its scheduled run. Had the Victoria Harbor area been open for aircraft operation, this could not have happened because of better natural protection.

The department is being asked to reconsider the whole question; for it is felt that there is ample space for the safe operation of aircraft in the Outer Harbor, and that if a motor boat is made available to tow disabled aircraft, the very remote danger which might exist to surface traffic in taxiing in and out of the Inner Harbor, there should be no logical reason why Canadian aircraft should not be allowed to use Victoria Harbor.

Bringing Victoria within an hour of Vancouver as it does, the new air line will undoubtedly develop into an important travel link between the two cities, while the policy of the company will be to augment the service as business demands.

REPRESENTATIVES of all the yachtsmen of the Pacific International Yachting Association will gather tonight in Vancouver, when the annual meeting of the association will be held at the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club. New Air Service
Is Meeting With
Merited Success

Ascertaining at first hand reaction to and reception of the recently inaugurated Victoria-Vancouver air service, W. H. Hall, passenger representative of the Wells Air Transport, Ltd., is in Victoria conferring with the local representatives of the Gray Line and J. Stewart Johnston, traffic solicitor. Passenger and express receipts have so far fully justified the company's faith in the new service. Mr. Hall stated yesterday, "We had supposed that timidity of the traveling public toward air travel was an obstacle that would take some time to overcome. However, while this is slightly true, contact with business representatives and travelers generally in both cities has revealed the fact that fares and express rates in line with general costs are of the first importance."

Bringing Victoria within an hour of Vancouver as it does, the new air line will undoubtedly develop into an important travel link between the two cities, while the policy of the company will be to augment the service as business demands.

WEATHER IS MODERATING

More Temperate Climate Can Be Expected Now, Napier Denison Reports

As forecast two days ago by Napier Denison, director of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, temperatures here and in the Northwest generally are moderating. This also is true in the Far North, even though readings in the temperatures to be around zero or below in the Yukon and at Prince George.

Yesterday morning the temperature dropped to a minimum of twenty degrees in Victoria and during the day reached a maximum of thirty-two degrees. At 8 o'clock last night the mercury had dropped again to twenty-eight degrees. Mr. Denison said that indications were that there would be a general rise in temperature, although frost would be prevalent after sundown.

Interior points and the Prairies reported a moderation in the cold, but further South unusual weather is being experienced. Portland reached a low yesterday of eighteen degrees, while in San Francisco the temperature was thirty degrees, accompanied by snow. The Sacramento Valley was suffering from ten degrees of frost. Smudge pots were kept burning all night over the damage to the citrus trees.

In Southern California there were heavy rainfalls throughout the day, with frost at night.

The art of diamond cutting was not developed until the middle of the fifteenth century, although crude methods of polishing were in use long before that time.

CABINET HEARS BURNABY PLEA

Government Is Told Schools May Be Closed Unless Money Is Obtained

Burnaby schools may have to close, unless the school board can find money from some quarter with which to pay back salaries and continue operations. It was unofficially represented to the Government here yesterday by a delegation of Burnaby civic officials. The delegation met Hon. J. W. Jones, to request that the Government guarantee advances to Burnaby to tide it over its present difficulty.

Councillors Gray and Martin composed the delegation, which interviewed the Minister of Finance and laid a detailed picture of Burnaby's financial problems before him. Mr. Jones promised consideration of the arguments put forward.

The Minister of Finance said later he would discuss the issue with the cabinet, but did not see how special aid could be granted to Burnaby and refused to offer municipal centres, outside of the regular advances for unemployment relief.

In a motion, moved by Alderman W. D. Todd and seconded by Captain Burgess J. Gadsden, the board of directors of the City Temple, at a meeting held last night, City tribute to the late Dr. Ernest Hall.

"We record our sorrow at the passing of our comrade and honor our president of the City Temple, Ernest Amos Hall, M.D., C.M., L.R.C.P. (Edin.), F.T.M.S.

"For more than a decade he had been an active and official member of this institution, and a close friend and counsellor of our minister. His sustained interest in the City Temple and subsequent activities of the City Temple had been an inspiration to the whole body of our membership. His generosity to this cause we record with deep appreciation.

FOUNDER OF CAUSE

"While holding our Sabbath services in the theatre, Dr. Hall generously accepted this institution as his first home on Fort Street, and afterwards he co-operated as an official member to secure the present building, the City Temple Auditorium. He was, indeed, a father and founder of our cause.

"We record our feeling of inspiration in his direct way, but through his great personal friendship with Dr. Clem Davies, who was the constant recipient of his advice and wise counsel as friend and personal physician.

"We express to Mrs. Hall and the family our sincere sympathy in their great loss and pray that God may help us to be worthy of the example and fellowship of Dr. Hall."

James Gartley Goes to Higher Court for Writ of Mandamus Against Pensions Board

Robert D. Harvey, counsel for James Gartley, yesterday filed notice of intention to appeal to the British Columbia Court of Appeal from the decision of Mr. Justice Murphy dismissing an application for a writ of mandamus directed to the members of the Workmen's Compensation Board administering the Old Age Pensions Act.

Mr. Gartley sought to force the board to reinstate his old age pension which had been reduced because of certain property in which he had an interest, but from which he received no revenue. Mr. Justice Murphy ruled that public funds could not be attacked by a writ of mandamus, and suggested in his judgment that remedy to increase the pension allowances should have been made by petition of right. This Mr. Harvey disagrees with and maintains in his notice of appeal that the motion was not for payment of public funds.

The appeal will be set for hearing when the Appeal Court resumes sittings early in January.

INQUEST WILL BE HELD TODAY

Victor Nunn Succumbs to Head Injuries Sustained in Auto Accident

An inquest into the death of Victor Nunn, truck driver, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Esquimalt Road last Tuesday, will be held at Sands Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Nunn passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon.

He suffered a fractured skull and compound fracture of the leg when he backed blindly across the Esquimalt Road into the path of a car driven by Lieut. J. C. Hibbard, H.M.C.S. Vancouver, according to the police report.

Mr. Nunn apparently had got out of his truck to investigate what he believed to be a frozen radiator. When the radiator cap was removed, a cloud of steam issued from the car. Mr. Nunn backed away from the steam into the path of the oncoming car, it was reported to police.

Mr. Nunn was born in Vancouver twenty-five years ago, and had resided there nearly all his life. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Nunn, of 915 Robson Street; his father, William Nunn, of Vancouver, and one sister, Mrs. W. Croxby, also residing on Mainland. The remains will be forwarded this evening to Vancouver, where interment will take place.

FOOD for the needy unemployed of Esquimalt will be provided by women of the Friendly Help in the Samaritan Inn at the Sailors' Club, which will be opened today. Women of this organization have helped considerably in the municipality during the present year and have been warmly praised for their selfless efforts in connection with the welfare work they are promoting.

It is expected that meals for approximately sixty men will be available today, but during subsequent days it is hoped to provide for a greater number. The serving of the meals will be in charge of Mrs. Quinn.

ASK CO-OPERATION

Women of the society point out that in continuing this work, the women of the residents in necessary and donations of bread, fruit, meat and other provisions will be appreciated.

This work is particularly timely with the approach of the Christmas season and it is hoped to bring a little cheer into the lives of those who are unable to provide themselves with the customary Yuletide meal. An appeal is also being issued for donations of wearing apparel, which is an urgent need among many of the unemployed families. Meals will be served daily at noon hour.

Bishop Gerald Murray, accompanied by priests from Victoria, Ladysmith and Cooper Island, attended.

Cancellation of Debts Would Prevent Chaos

John Hart Gives Informative Address on "Gold Standard" Before Liberal Women's Forum—War Obligations Divided Into Two Classes

That even more chaotic conditions than at present exist will come to pass if the United States fails in the near future to declare a willingness to reconsider the whole question of Great Britain's indebtedness and take some measure toward its cancellation was maintained by John Hart, a former Minister of Finance in the British Columbia Government, in an extremely able address on "The Gold Standard," which he gave yesterday afternoon before the Liberal Women's Forum.

Mr. Hart prefaced the lengthier part of his address, devoted to the reasons and after-effects of Great Britain's desertion of the gold standard, by a brief history of the events leading up to the almost universal adoption of the gold standard during the 'sixties of last century.

Great Britain had been forced off the gold standard in September last year because she had not enough gold to pay off her debts. The immediate effect of this was that the gold pound was thrown off the market; the ultimate effect that as it required about thirty shillings of British money to buy from either of the two gold-standard countries (the United States and France), commodities which formerly cost only twenty shillings, inducements for Great Britain to purchase were less, while, reversely, the United States tended to become a better customer of certain commodities because she could now purchase for $20 in Great Britain what had formerly cost $4.86.

STIMULATES INDUSTRY
"Cotton mills and some other industries which drew United States custom were started up in Great Britain, money was put into circulation, and unemployment was relieved in the Old Land to a certain extent, although as far as trading among themselves was concerned, the effect was hardly felt," noted the speaker.

Ever since the United States went on the gold standard in 1873, the value of the English pound had had the fixed value of $4.86 2-3, the process by which this agreement was arrived at being shown as having relation to the weight and relative fineness of the metal.

WAR DEBTS
War debts were of two classes, first those represented in the assessment against Germany for damage done during the war to railways, buildings, etc., and second, the cost of replacement. The Dawes Commission had assessed the reparations at thirty-two billion dollars; the Young Committee had reduced this to about nine billions. For a short time Germany was able to pay the interest on this, until her goods were closed out of the United States by high tariffs. Great

Hints Given as to Care of Stockings
Nothing gives that "well-dressed" feeling more than dainty stockings of real silk—and though they are expensive in the first place, they will, with reasonable precautions, easily outlast several cheaper pairs, and preserve their shape and gloss to the very end.

To insure this desirable state of affairs the following hints should be of use:
Firstly—When purchasing real silk stockings, pay particular attention to the size; it is fatal to buy a pair that are too small.
Secondly—Always insist on examining them thoroughly in order that they may be no flaw or "rough" thread that escapes your attention.

Also, it is advisable to choose a pair where the thicker part of the heel comes just above the back of the shoe, as otherwise a ladder will inevitably result.
Before wearing new stockings, it is a good plan to purchase a reel of fine silk of an exactly matching shade, and sew right round the toe about an inch from the end, using an ultra-fine needle and tiny stitches. In this way, if a hole arrives, the stitches will prevent a ladder running up the foot. The same thing applying to the heel, where a line of the tiny stitches will run along the top of the reinforced

Young People to Present Pageant

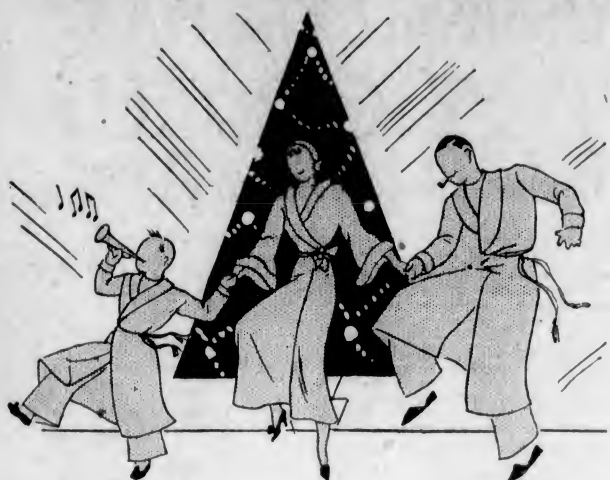

Following the usual custom, the Young People's department of the First United Church will hold one of their beautiful Christmas festivals, including a pageant, on Monday, December 19. A splendid committee has been hard at work for several weeks, and a most interesting and varied programme has been arranged. The first part of the programme will be given in the church, and will be in the form of a Christmas vocal and organ recital. Mrs. W. H. Wilson, soprano, will render vocal numbers; Misses Ina Easton and Elsie Robinson, vocal duet; J. Petrie, the well-known basso, will sing "The Birthday of a King". A ladies' choir of members from Y.P.D. will render an anthem. There will be a singing for the audience.

organ selections will be played by Jack Smith. The second part of the programme will be given in the schoolroom, to consist of an impressive pageant directed by Miss Olive Heritage, the title being "The Gift," by Marie A. Foley. The scene is laid in Judea, and the following is the cast: Misses Myra Edwards, Nina Joyce, Dorothy Pattullo, Olive Lynn, William Alexander and Fred Wernold. The public is cordially invited to attend. A free-will offering will be taken on behalf of the missionary and maintenance funds of the church. A policeman was watching a very poor player of the concertina in the middle of the long street, and was surprised at the number of generous people. When at last the man was gone the policeman said to one of the givers: "He was a rotten musician, any way." To which the man said: "That was no musician; he was our local bookie."

That Body of Yours

MIGRAINE—ONE-SIDED HEADACHE

Some months ago I spoke of the experiment that was being conducted at one of the Universities in an effort to find the cause of migraine—one-sided headache. Hundreds of sufferers reported and were willing to enter hospital, to do anything in fact to get relief from this distressing ailment. The full results of the experiment are not available yet. Now while it cannot be said that all causes of one-sided headache have been discovered, and that successful treatment in all cases has been obtained, nevertheless what has been found by research workers throughout the world is helpful and interesting. Drs. R. M. Balyeat and H. J.

Hinkel, doing further work on the findings of Drs. Vaughan and Rowe, state that migraine is caused by a "sensitiveness" to certain substances, just as with hay fever and asthma. Their findings are: (a) Migraine commonly begins during the first ten years of life and before the age of twenty in about 60 percent of cases. This is about the same age and occurrence as with hay fever, asthma and other conditions due to this sensitiveness to various substances. (b) Migraine frequently among business and professional men and teachers—just as these other "sensitive" or allergic ailments are also commonest in this class. (c) Heredity, inheriting the tendency, is the most important cause in migraine, as in all "allergic" diseases. (d) Migraine is interchangeable in the family with asthma and hay fever. In a series of 202 cases a positive family history of migraine or a family history of these other allergic ailments—hay fever, asthma, rheumatism, bronchitis, eczema—was found in over 82 percent. (e) Many of these migraine patients suffer with other symptoms of allergy. (f) Migraine may be relieved by avoiding substances to which the patient is found sensitive. The chief foods to which these patients have been found sensitive, in order of importance, are milk, wheat, eggs, nuts, beans, fish. These are all excellent foods, among the very best from the standpoint of food value, yet the body processes of certain individuals cannot handle them successfully. All headache is not migraine, but the above knowledge is invaluable to sufferers with migraine. Jones: "Well how are you getting on in your new eight-roomed house?" Smith: "Oh, not so badly. We furnished one of the bedrooms by collecting soap coupons." Jones: "Didn't you furnish the other seven rooms?" Smith: "We can't. They're full of soap."

Presbyterians to Seek Change in Property Status

A resolution was passed at the last meeting of the Synod of Alberta providing for readjustment of the general property of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as made by the commission after the consummation of union in 1925. The proposal, according to The Presbyterian Record, was that an approach should be made to the United Church of Canada, and, failing that, that an amendment to the United Church of Canada Act should be secured. Two colored boys were having an argument about ghosts. One of them claimed to have seen a ghost as he passed the cemetery the night before. "What was disere ghos' doin' when you las' seen him?" asked the doubting one. "Jes fallin' behin', mistab; fallin' behin' rapid."

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

TO SPEAK ON FIRST CHILD

Rev. E. F. Church Will Conclude Sermon Series to Young Men Tomorrow

Taking as his subject "His First Child," Rev. E. F. Church will preach his sixth and last sermon on "Great Moments in a Young Man's Life" on Sunday evening at Metropolitan Church. These sermons have been very popular with the young men and women of Victoria, and they have shown their appreciation by attending in record numbers. Mr. Church has been asked to favor the young women with a series of plain talks on life, and these will be given early in the New Year.

The morning service will be marked by a meditation on the subject of "The Dawn of a Brighter Tomorrow—Is It Real?" Frederick Lamson writes in his "Confidence," "Hope is useless. All this talk of a brighter tomorrow is false." The pastor will discuss this vital question from a Christian point of view. The music for the day will include the following old favorite hymns: "Unto the Hills," "Lift Up Your Heads," "How Firm a Foundation," "O Day of Rest and Gladness," "Gracious Saviour, Gentle Shepherd," "I Am So Glad," "At 7 o'clock Edward Parsons will give an organ recital on Metropolitan's great organ. The choir will render special music, under the direction of Frank Tupman, singing in the morning the anthem, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" (Byrdham); solo, "Spirit of God" (Neidinger), by Mrs. Florence Noel. For the evening an anthem, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" (Achens), and male quartette, "Holy Night" (Beethoven).

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, December 18, the annual "White Gift" service will be held in the church.

Church Leaders Issue Appeal for Intercession in New Year

Leaders of four Canadian communions have issued an appeal for a special observance of the first week in the new year, for sustained intercession for the church, the nation and the world.

The signatories of the "Call to Prayer" are Archbishop Worrell, Primate of the Church of England in Canada; Dr. John McNeill, President of the Baptist World Alliance; Rt. Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston, Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; and Rt. Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, Moderator of the United Church of Canada.

The appeal is issued, according to these religious leaders, "to consider anew the present need of the world in the light of Christ's revelation of God and His purpose for mankind." They further state that "the ultimate roots of the present economic and international anarchy are ethical, indicating a wide departure from the thought of human life cherished by our Lord."

The local Ministerial Association, in view of the recent retreat and the crowded conditions of church life just now, will not meet this month, but will, it is expected, concentrate attention upon the first week in January as a week of prayer.

Kid Chocolate Retains Featherweight Title by Decisioning La Baba

Cuban Wins Close Verdict; Battaglia Whips Chick Devlin

Flashy Chocolate Earns Hairline Call Over La Barba in Thrilling Fifteen-Round Bout Before 15,000 Fans—Winnipeg Boy Decisively Outpoints Devlin

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP).—The gleaming Cuban boy, slender "Kid" Chocolate, beat out the fifteen-round challenge of chunky Fidel Labarra, tonight, to retain his claim to the featherweight championship; but only after as close and bitter a battle as the big Garden pit has seen this season: 15,000 attended.

Chocolate had just enough extra sparkle to catch the eyes of the two judges, Sam Austin and Eddie Farrell, while the referee, Willie Lewis, voted the slambang duel a draw at the close of the fifteenth round. The Associated Press score sheet chalked up six rounds for each, with three even. There were no knockdowns, but the thrills piled one on another in the closing round, with both winding up finally in the fifteenth round spent and exhausted they could only stand in mid-ring and go through the motions of fighting.

CHOCOLATE IN TROUBLE
Labarra, good-looking, curly-headed youth from Los Angeles, won the first, seventh, ninth, eleventh and fourteenth rounds. In the twelfth he made his major bid, catching Chocolate along the ropes as the round started with a looping left to the head that banded the negro's legs and forced him to clinch. But just when he needed it most, Chocolate's reserve strength came to the fore. He dug his feet into the canvas and started punching. In a twinkling the advantage shifted as Chocolate volleyed one right and left after another into the Californian's tired head.

DAVIDSON DECLARES AGREEMENT WAS MADE

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP).—Negotiations for an alliance between the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada and the Dominion Football Association have run into a snag, it was learned here today. The difficulty of reconciling the looser regulations regarding professionalism in the D.F.A. with the rules of the A.A.U. is still far from being solved.

In his presidential address at the opening of the annual meeting of the union, James Morkin, of Winnipeg, said he hoped the alliance might be completed at the meeting. Since his formal speech had been prepared, however, he said he had been advised this would be impossible.

A committee comprising representatives of the two bodies studied the question of alliance during the year. Mr. Morkin said he had been informed the committee had been unable to reach an agreement.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Shubenacadie River, a tributary of the Bay of Fundy, presents at its mouth the phenomenon of a bore—a wall of water six feet high which apparently rolls uphill. The bore is a result of the high tides of the bay battling the fresh water of the river.

The Last of a Vanished Race—The Beothucks, original inhabitants of Newfoundland at the time of John Cabot's discovery, have vanished completely after continuing to occupy the country for nearly three and a half centuries. In 1923 the last representatives of the race—a woman and two daughters—were the guests of a resident of St. John's. They departed for the purpose of joining their tribe. The woman and one of her daughters died after all attempts to locate their kin proved unavailing. The sole remaining member of the Beothuck race, Shanawdithit, survived by about five years. With her death disappeared the last vestige of her people.

Evangeline—The real name of the Acadian heroine was Emmeline Labiche, which name still survives in the traditions of the Acadian refugees in Louisiana. When Longfellow began his famous poem he was undecided as to the name of the heroine. He was wedded between Gabrielle and Celestine, and finally decided upon the latter. However, in 1847, he changed his choice to Evangeline for reasons of euphony.

Max Schmeling Will Not Box for New York Garden Again

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP).—Max Schmeling's plans for the future, outlined today by Joe Jacobs, his manager, on arrival here from Germany, include Jack Dempsey and Max Baer, but have no place for either Jack Sharkey, champion of the heavyweights, or Madison Square Garden, promoter of every heavyweight title tilt since the days of Tex Rickard.

Dempsey, who met Jacobs at the pier, comes into the picture as a possible promoter for a match with Max Baer, either in New York, or at Chicago during the World Fair next June.

Under no circumstances, said Jacobs, would Schmeling, who lost his world title to Sharkey here last Summer, book again for Madison Square Garden.

TEACHERS IN ATHLETICS TO LOSE STATUS

A.A.U. to Bar Part-Time Instructors From Simon-Pure Sports

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP).—School teachers giving part-time instruction in athletics will be barred from competition in amateur athletics while they are giving instruction, under a ruling adopted by the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada today.

The ruling declares "the teacher whose duties call for the teaching of physical education will be considered as having the status of a playground supervisor."

The change is designed to meet the case of the teacher whose chief work is academic instruction, but who is employed because of his or her athletic ability and is expected to give part-time physical training.

The first proposal would have made such teachers noncompeting amateurs for the school term and encountered opposition. The result is they can get back to competition sixteen days after they cease giving instruction.

Poolling of expenses of delegates to the annual meeting would not be practicable, J. H. Crocker, of London, chairman of the regulations committee, reported. A proposal of the British Columbia branch to effect this was therefore shelved.

CHAMPIONS DISPLY BRILLIANT FORM IN STRAIGHT SET VINS

Radford Defeats Drennan Hinks, 15-15-6—Dorothy Morley Scores 11-4, 14-9 Over Florence Oates—Radford and Hink Team Up to Capture Men's Doubles Crn

The large crowd which attended the finals of the Victoria and district badminton championships last evening at the Willows were treated to the best badminton which has been seen here for some time. Noel Radford, who shares in the Dominion men's doubles and mixed doubles titles and who recently won the Garrison club championship, and Dorothy Morley, Island champion, were declared monarchs for the evening year after defeating the strongest field which had ever entered in the local titular event.

Radford, in defeating Drennan Hinks, showed the same class which last year won him the British Columbia singles title. This match produced the best badminton of the evening, and was a treat to watch. Spectators were struck with the entire ease with which the champion made his shots and the similarity of the action employed in smashing, clearing and dropping the shuttle almost on the net itself. Radford was never in danger, and took the first game, 15-9. Hinks rallied in the second game and held Radford at four-all for a short time, but the latter soon ran out at 15-6.

Dorothy Morley and Florence Oates played excellent badminton in their singles final, with the former having the edge throughout. Miss Morley took the first game fairly easily, but the second went to 9-9 before she ran out. The score was 11-4, 14-9.

SINGLES FINALISTS WIN
Radford and Hinks, the singles finalists, combined to take the measure of Peter and George Phillips in the men's doubles. The score was 15-13, 15-13. Radford appeared a bit off color in this match, which was the first of the evening, and a number of times he failed to make his shot, but he cleared the net. Superior experience, in spite of a noticeable lack of combination, pulled the Garrison team through the edge.

Second game, when the Phillips brothers, through brilliant play, brought their score up to 13. Slightly superior speed was the deciding factor in the women's doubles final, when the strong Garrison-Willows combination of Mona Miller and Jean Campbell defeated Mrs. MacDonald and Dorothy Morley in a well-contested match, 15-9, 15-7.

THIRD VICTORY
Drennan Hinks appeared in his third finals match and teamed with Mona Miller to win from Margery Benson and Harry Webb in straight sets, 15-9, 15-11. Greater experience and better combination again won the former pair the city title.

While the open events were all won in straight games, the handicap and consolation events all went to the extra games and produced some lengthy matches. Ian Phillips and Harrison won from Watson and Rall in an exciting contest in the men's doubles, while Florence Oates and Dorothy Morley defeated Mrs. Munroe and Mrs. Mangin after a hectic struggle. In the veterans' doubles event Gibson and Cuthbert-Holmes had their work cut out to beat Austin-Leigh and Merston 15-13, 15-9, 15-7. In the men's consolation event Dudley Wickett took the measure of Campbell Logan, 4-15, 15-12, 15-12.

Stocks Gain on Scattered Rally At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—The second time this week stocks showed some life on the upside today, although the rally appeared to be at the expense of the short interest.

On the whole, net gains were small, but an abundance of selling pressure had considerable bearing on the eventual recovery. Transactions again pushed across the million mark, totaling 1,185,000 shares.

Issues frequently associated with pool demonstrations assumed some prominence, especially on the lower-price brackets. Group movements were rather poorly defined, although coppers dragged and steel were more robust. Ralls found some favor, perhaps on the theory that tomorrow's car-loadings report will disclose a good-sized rally from November 24. Union Pacific rose 3/4 net and a few others a point or thereabouts.

General Electric and Radio received quiet news of the former's distribution of the latter's shares. United States Steel preferred, now undergoing fresh claims as to possible dividend action late next month, weakened 2 points or so and then fully recovered. The common had a heavy undertone. Allied Chemical ran up nearly 4 points. Du Pont and American Can about 2. Many advances approximated a point.

The bond market was in the grip of indecision today and most prices followed a narrow range. The United States Government department took a back seat for the moment, although outside trading in the Treasury's short-dated notes and certificates was reported quite active. Best investment corporation issues were firm.

Total sales dropped to $22,000, par value. A number of high-grade utility issues were in demand, advancing fractionally to new highs for the year.

The rails showed little net progress. Foreign obligations were mixed. French Government 7-1/2's reached another new high at 126 and closed at 125 7/8. The Australians rallied after early weakness and British 1-1/2's were unchanged. The Canadians eased.
